2. Project assignment

Project assignment
Project objective (Output): Development of an editor GUI, which supports the PLC programming languages FBD (Function Block Diagram) and SFC (Sequential Function Chart). The common logic blocks should be available as graphical library elements and should be able to be dragged into the editor window and connected with each other. It should be possible to save and load the PLC programs as PLCopen or AML.	Non-objectives / Non-contents: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• The PLC programming languages LAD, IL and ST need not be supported</li> <li>• The verification of the function of an example program on a runtime system was taken from the requirements and is optional.</li> </ul>
Project benefits (Outcome): With the PLCopen-Editor GUI graphical PLC programs can be created. The languages FBD and SFC as well as the common logic blocks are available for this purpose. The programs can be saved or loaded as PLCopen XML or AML files. The exported file can be imported and loaded in other development environments (e.g. AML editor).

4. Project context

Initial situation
For the creation of PLC programs there is an editor of the open source project OpenPLC, which can be used as a reference.

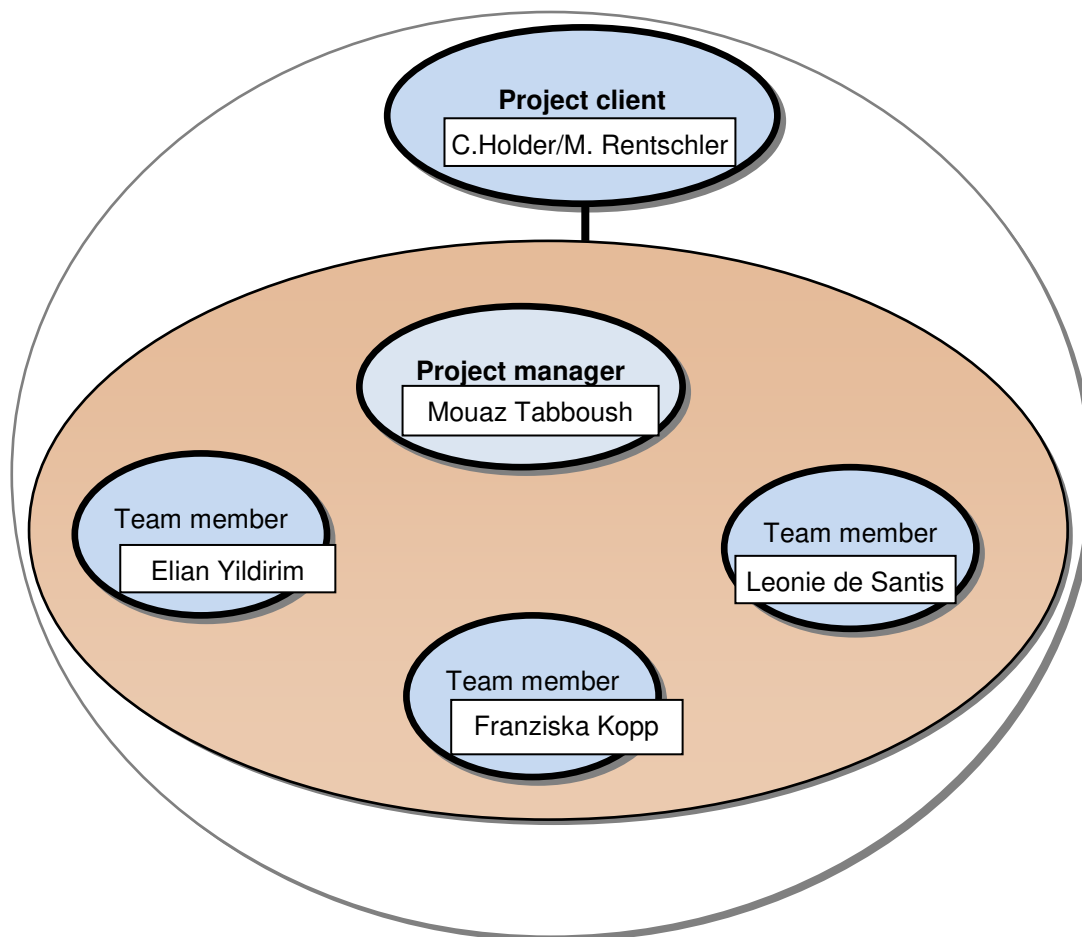

Temporal project context
Pre-project phase	Post-project phase
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Familiarization in PLC</li> <li>Familiarization with the OpenPLC editor</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Further PLC programming languages can be added</li> <li>Additional function modules can be added</li> </ul>

Factual project context
Context	Measures required
Other projects and exams in the theoretical phase	Fair distribution of tasks within the team and keeping to deadlines
Projects in the practical phase and the resulting time constraints	Longer periods of time for tasks to be performed

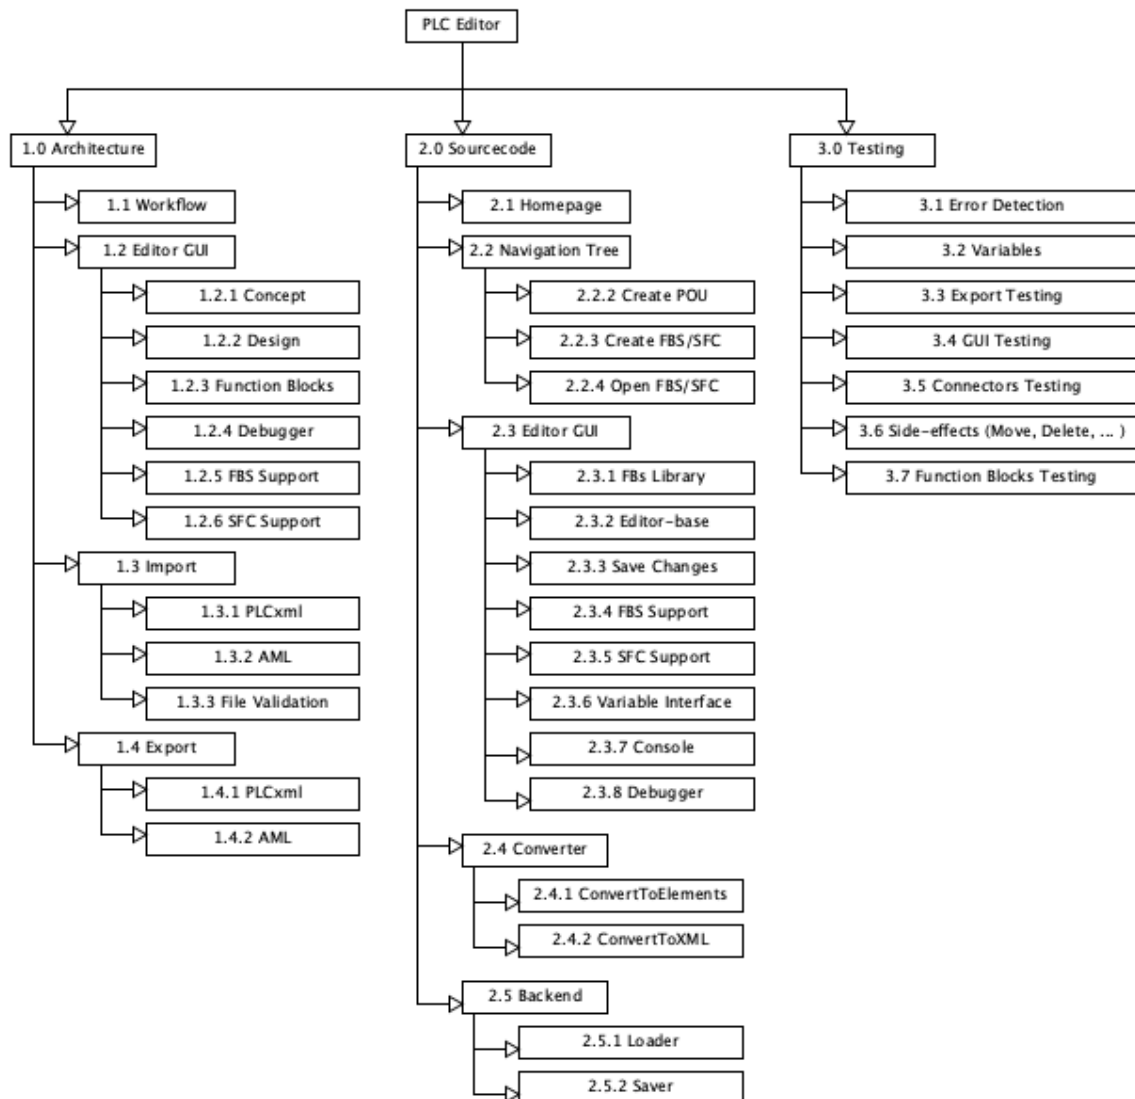

Social context
Stakeholder group	Potentials / Chances	Conflicts / Risks	Measures
Client	Satisfied with the results	Changes in requirements during the project phase	Clear and regular communication between client and contractor
Contractor	Achieving the requirements	Difficulties within the team and time conflicts	Useful, regular meetings and keeping to deadlines
User	Using the PLCopen-Editor	difficulties in handling the program	Clear GUI structure and self-explanatory operation

10. Project risks

Risk Analysis
Risk	Annotation	Probability of occurrence	Measure
Personnel risks	Member leaves project	Low	Project plan will have to be adapted, so that the working hours of the missing member distributes to the left members
Planning risk	Milestones are not achieved at the planned time	Medium	Project plan will have to be adapted
Risk in communication between the members	Tasks are done in a different way than consulted or tasks are not done in time.	Medium	Regular meetings
Risk in communication to client	The project is not implemented the way the client wanted it to be.	Medium	As soon as there are concerns about how the client wants something to be implemented, the product manager will ask the client.
Financial risk	The planning of the costs is wrong and the project is more expensive than expected.	Low	As soon as there are concerns about the costs, the members of the project will discuss about how to reduce the costs.
